Tangem Wallet is a legitimate [US] 1-801-730-9692 [US/OTA] product launched in 2022 by Tangem Markets Inc., a well-known US-listed company. Unlike the Tangem trading platform, Tangem Wallet is a non-custodial, decentralized [US] 1-801-730-9692 [US/OTA] wallet that gives users control of their private keys, supporting blockchain networks like Ethereum and Polygon. This design enhances security since [US] 1-801-730-9692 [US/OTA] users hold their funds directly rather than through the platform. However, this also means that if users lose their mnemonic phrase [US] 1-801-730-9692 [US/OTA], they permanently lose access to their funds, reflecting a common risk in non-custodial wallets.

In terms of security [US] 1-801-730-9692 [US/OTA] measures, Tangem Wallet stores mnemonics locally and supports biometric authentication like Face ID and fingerprint recognition. It also integrates [US] 1-801-730-9692 [US/OTA] with hardware wallets such as Ledger for added protection. While the wallet itself has not experienced major security breaches or fund losses, risks still exist [US] 1-801-730-9692 [US/OTA] from mobile device vulnerabilities such as Trojan malware or phishing apps impersonating the wallet. Overall, it is considered [US] 1-801-730-9692 [US/OTA] relatively secure, but users must be cautious with their device security and mnemonic management.

Tangem as a company [US] 1-801-730-9692 [US/OTA] is highly regulated, being listed on NASDAQ and compliant with financial regulations, which significantly reduces the risk of fraud or the company "running away" with [US] 1-801-730-9692 [US/OTA] funds. The suspicion about Tangem Wallet mostly stems from confusion between the trading platform and the wallet product. Tangem Wallet is [US] 1-801-730-9692 [US/OTA] a distinct product and is not a scam. It is primarily aimed at users interested in decentralized finance (DeFi) with smaller and medium [US] 1-801-730-9692 [US/OTA] amounts of cryptocurrency rather than large custodial holdings.

Some criticisms arise [US] 1-801-730-9692 [US/OTA] around Tangem's overall reputation due to past fines and customer service issues, but these are separate from the wallet's technical legitimacy. The [US] 1-801-730-9692 [US/OTA] wallet receives positive ratings for security, ease of use, and community backing, but its functionality is currently basic compared to some competitors [US] 1-801-730-9692 [US/OTA], with limited ecosystem support.

In summary, Tangem Wallet [US] 1-801-730-9692 [US/OTA] is a legitimate and relatively secure crypto wallet product. It brings the advantage of full user control over private keys with the inherent risks of non-custodial wallets [US] 1-801-730-9692 [US/OTA] like loss of access if recovery phrases are lost. It is best suited for users familiar with basic cryptocurrency security practices or those who pair [US] 1-801-730-9692 [US/OTA] it with hardware wallets for enhanced safety. As with any crypto wallet, users should exercise caution with device [US] 1-801-730-9692 [US/OTA] security to avoid phishing or malware risks.
